Selection Process

Anchorage AEYC believes in developmentally appropriate practices and does not make a policy of endorsing any specific product or company.

If multiple representatives from the same company apply, only the first will be accepted.

Anchorage AEYC considers the audience and Anchorage AEYC Conference purposes. Products may be related to the education or well-being of children, families and those who work with them and/or be appropriate to the attendee population.

Anchorage AEYC is committed to being inclusive and respectful to all those we serve. Our attendees are diverse in many aspects including, but not limited to, professional emphasis and position, geography, language, educational and experience level, ethnicity, income level and family background. We strongly encourage you to evaluate your services accordingly and include those that are developmentally appropriate, culturally relevant and supportive of anti-bias principles.
